Nomenclature

INAIL	National Insurance Institute for Employment Injuries
INPS	National Social Security Institute
SSN	National Health Service
TFR	Severance pay

Monetary unit

Social spending is expressed in millions of Euros (EUR).

General notes

By and large, the Italian system of social protection is organised along categorical provision of benefits. For each branch of social policy, e.g. pensions, there is a separate administrative body that is responsible for the collection of contributions and the provision of benefits. Government departments are responsible for the supervising the implementation of legislation and other operational aspects of social protection delivery.

The individual country notes of the OECD Benefits and Wages (www.oecd.org/social/benefits-and-wages.htm) provide a comprehensive description of characteristics of social programmes (e.g. conditions for receipt, calculation of payment rates, tax treatment of social support, benefit duration, etc.) for the working-age population, including: unemployment insurance and assistance, social assistance, employment-conditional benefits, housing benefits, family benefits, childcare support, and support for sole parent households.

Break in series

Data for 1990 onwards are based on the new ESSPROS methodology format. Coherent spending series for 1980 onwards at the individual programme level were obtained on basis of information for a few years in the early 1990s for which both historical spending series and information based on the new ESSPROS format were available. For certain programmes and aggregate categories, breaks in series (between 1989 and 1990) were inevitable. In general, programmes from the old ESSPROS format which could not be matched with a figure from the new ESSPROS format were set to “missing” from 1990 onwards; similarly, figures from the new ESSPROS format which could not be matched to a programme from the old methodology were set to “missing” for the period 1980-89.

Data on public expenditure are underestimated for the period 1980-89 because data on public expenditure on ALMP are available only from 1990 onwards.

Health Data refer to OECD Health Statistics since 1988 and to estimates from 1988 backwards from previous national accounts health spending series.

Code	Title of the programme	Description of the programme and attached notes
1.	OLD AGE
380.10.1.1.1.1	General scheme for employees (INPS)	Worker aged 64 (men) or 59 (women) and over are entitled to an old age pension if he/she has contributed to the programme for at least 15 years (19 years since 1 January 1999). The general pension scheme grants pension payments to those who retire prior to the specified ages, provided that certain contribution conditions have been met. From 1990 onwards, pension's payments are disaggregated between different schemes under the title "Old age pensions".
380.10.1.1.1.2	Other special professional schemes	Data under "Other special professional schemes" include data on expenditure on pension payments for employees of private gas companies, employees of private electricity companies, employees of public transport companies, mariners, miners, airline personnel, employees of the public telephone company, Inland Revenue employees, former employees of the Exercise Duty Office, self-employed (farmers, craftsmen, tradesmen), members of the clergy, miscellaneous pension schemes for employees in the public sector as administered by the Treasury and miscellaneous pension schemes for self-employed and employed persons.
380.10.1.1.1.3	Special voluntary schemes	Data under "Special voluntary schemes" include data for collective pension insurance (shipping registry), and voluntary insurance (housewives, etc.).
380.10.1.1.1.5	Supplementary pension schemes for various occupational scheme	These payment concern employees of various public institutions and private sector employees. The latter payments are private social expenditures, and are therefore outside the present scope of SOCX. However, separate data are not available.
380.10.1.1.2.2 to 380.10.1.1.2.10	Anticipated old age pension	After the reform of pension system set up in 1995, the provision of anticipated old age pension is characterised for the existence of different rules concerning eligibility criteria as well as the formula for the evaluation of benefit. For people employed after the 1 January 1996, the pension is computed on the basis of the value of contributions credited. For workers having at 31 December 1995 at least 18 years of credited contributions, the pension is computed on the basis of the previous PAYG method. For workers having at 31 December 1995 less than 18 years of credited contributions, the pension is computed with a mixed system (contributory and PAYG). Up to 2011, the anticipated retirement (before 65 years) is allowed if the pensioner has 40 years of contributions; since 2012, the threshold grew to 42 years + 1 month for men and 41 years + 1 month for women (the age requirement will grow according with the growth of life expectancy).
380.10.1.1.3.1	Lump-sum payments by pension agencies	Lump-sum payments to survivors are included.
2	SURVIVORS
380.10.2.1.1.1	General scheme for employees (INPS)	Data under "General scheme for employees (INPS)" include data for the occupational accidents and illness scheme (INAIL).
380.10.2.1.1.2	Other special professional schemes	See 1.1.1.2
380.10.2.1.1.5.	Supplementary pension schemes for various occupational groups	See 1.1.1.5
380.10.2.1.1.6 to 380.10.2.1.1.17 and, 380.10.2.1.1.19 to	Survivors' pension	From 1990 onwards, survivor pension's payments are disaggregated between different scheme. The benefit is provided to survivors in occurrence of the death of the insured person, already retired or of a person being yet in activity; in the later case, the provision of the benefit is conditioned to the existence of an history of employment lasting at least
